

Let the market place decide whether or not XM Radio should be allowed to broadcast up to the minute traffic and weather to it's listeners. Perhaps local radio stations should try to provide a better alternative. This is one more example where we don't need the government getting in the way of free enterprise. Defending the countr and delivering the mail is all the goverment should be doing.